85th Congress Is Now in Session

By JACK BELL and
WILLIAM T. PEACOCK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new 85th Congress convened today in session over which party would control the Senate and confront with a momentous issue in foreign affairs.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-O.) voted with his party today in the Senate's first organizational test of the new Congress and the vote appeared to assure Democratic control of the Senate.

Lausche had kept the Senate in suspense about his vote until he actually cast it. He had hinted last summer that he might vote with the Republicans.

Hanging over the new Congress was the grave question of whether to give advance approval for U.S. troops to meet any Communist aggression in the Middle East.

The administration's posing of this question — which President Eisenhower may dramatize with a personal appearance before a joint session tomorrow — added an undercurrent of solemnity.

The Middle East issue overshadowed such other questions of the moment as the proposed move by a group of Western and Northern senators to change Senate rules and make it easier to cut off filibusters. They believe such a step could clear the way for passage of civil rights legislation.

A civil rights program is one of the domestic matters President Eisenhower has high on his list of desired legislation. He already has outlined some of his desires in conferences with Republican leaders, and will put his requests formally before the Congress in his State of the Union message to be delivered — personally — a week from today.

Before the gavel banged at noon in the Senate and House chambers, formally launching the session, party caucuses by senators settled party leadership questions in routine fashion.

The Republicans re-elected Knowland as their floor leader and elevated Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts to chairman of the Republican Conference. Saltonstall succeeds Sen. Eugene Millikin of Colorado who did not run for re-election.

Sen. Dirksen of Illinois was made party whip, or assistant leader, a post Saltonstall held in the last session.

Democratic senators again chose Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas as floor leader and picked Sen. Mansfield of Montana as whip. Mansfield takes the job that Sen. Clements of Kentucky had in the last session. Clements was defeated for re-election.

The Democrats tabbed Sen. Hayden of Arizona for Senate president pro tempore. The duty of this officer is to preside over the Senate when Vice President Nixon is absent. The post carries an automobile and other perquisites.

There was applause at the Democratic meeting when Johnson announced that Adlai E. Stevenson, unsuccessful party candidate for the presidency last fall, would be in the visitor's gallery at the opening session.

While the House party caucuses were held yesterday, returning Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex.) as speaker — a job he had held longer than any other man — and Rep. Martin (Mass.) as GOP floor leader.

The party division in this new Congress is: Senate, 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans; House, 233 Democrats, 200 Republican and two vacancies.

Milk Firm Fails to Renew Contracts

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dean Milk Co. has refused to renew its contract with Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association and now is shipping in its milk supplies from Illinois and Missouri.

At Hinsdale, Ill., Sam Dean, president of the firm said he refused to pay a premium price for milk.

Reduction in Income Tax Not Likely

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher government costs and an anticipated record peacetime budget all but ruled out any general income tax reduction action in the Congress session opening today.

Although some pressure for individual income tax relief was expected, the consensus of key members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee seemed to be: "Not a chance."

This, however, did not foreclose the possibility of some relief for certain groups of taxpayers.

Bi-partisan support has developed in Congress during the recess for some revision of business excise sales tax laws and for tax aid to small business men.

The big block to general individual and corporate income tax cuts is the 1956 fiscal year budget due to be sent to Capitol Hill by President Eisenhower later this month.

Congress expects it to put federal spending requests at around 2 billion dollars for the year starting next July 1.

This would be the large budget ever sent to Congress when the nation was not at war. It would leave little room for any sizable reduction in tax revenues, despite forecasts of a treasury surplus of as much as $1,700,000,000 dollars.

The Treasury steadfastly has opposed tax reduction this year, contending it cannot be accomplished without serious loss of needed revenue. And the President's economic advisers are understood to oppose such action because of inflationary pressures.

Fear of touching off a new inflation spiral through untimely tax cuts also has been voiced by influential House Democrats.

While Congress is expected to leave unchanged present income tax rates, a number of selective changes in the tax laws are in the making. These may not cause any important net change in tax revenues.

1956 Rainfall 19.33 Inches Below Normal

Rainfall in Hope and surrounding area during 1956 was 19.33 inches short of normal, according to University of Arkansas Experiment Station figures released today.

In a normal year Hempstead receives 51.33 inches of rain. Only 32.02 inches fell during 1956, some 62.4 per cent of normal. Thus every year for the past six years has fallen below with 1956 proving to be the worst.

Usually November and December are fairly wet months, the average being 4.55 inches for November and 4.44 inches for December. In 1956 only 3.08 inches fell in November and 1.14 inches in December, some 67.17 inches below normal.

A glance at stock ponds, lakes and creeks in this section will testify to the lack of rainfall.

During the entire year only February with 5.65 inches and June with 3.34 inches exceeded normal rainfall. All the other months were far below average with July the worst. Only .60 of an inch fell during July, representing 3.75 inches below average.

In 1951 some 48.56 inches of rain fell, this being 2.78 below average; 1952 had 41.18 inches or 10.17 inches below normal; 1953 was some better with 45.28 inches, 6.07 inches below normal; 1954 the rain totaled 41.02 or 0.32 below average and 1955 totaled 40.92 or 10.41

Alcohol Tax Unit Will Expand

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The staff of the federal Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Unit in Arkansas will expand with the addition of an office at Camden Jan. 13, it was announced here today.

Supervisor W. B. Reynolds said a review of 1956 activities showed that agents raided fewer illegal distilleries than in 1955 but made more arrests. A total of 143 distilleries were destroyed.

Strikes Idle Canadian Pacific RR

MONTREAL (AP) — The Canadian Pacific Railway system — nearly half of Canada's rail network — was idled from the Atlantic to the Pacific, today by a strike of firemen.

Prospects appeared dim for settlement of the dispute over the railway's plans to eliminate firemen from some diesel engines.

Some 3,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers (CLC) quit their jobs at 4 p.m. yesterday. Picket lines were thrown up.

A total of some 75,000 (CPR) workers are expected to be laid off. Other unions pledged not to cross picket lines.

Unemployment threatened other industries dependent on railroad transportation.

CPR President N. R. Crump declared in a statement the railway would run trains if nonstriking unions would work.

Crump also urged the firemen to accept a federal conciliation board's majority report approving the CPR plan for the gradual elimination of firemen helpers on diesel locomotives in freight and yard services. Railway sources estimated about 200 firemen would be affected.

BANK CALL ISSUED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The controller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Monday, Dec. 31.

Alcoa Charge in Gas Deal Heard by PSC

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A charge that Reynolds Metals Co. is enjoying an unfair preference in obtaining gas from the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. was taken under advisement yesterday by the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

The Aluminum Corp. of America has asked the PSC for a temporary order forbidding Ark-La from "discriminating" against it in favor of Reynolds.

Reynolds has a contract with the gas company under which it pays a higher rate and enjoys a higher priority in the event of a shortage of gas.

Both Ark-La and Reynolds deny that any discrimination exists.

Witnesses for both sides testified that Alcoa had refused to sign a preferential contract of the type negotiated by Reynolds.

Alcoa and some other large users have appealed a rate increase granted to Ark-La in 1955 to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Alcoa is seeking the temporary order to require Ark-La to furnish the same service to all large industrial users until a later hearing in which more detailed testimony would be presented. Alcoa contends that all large users should be given the same service regardless of the preferential contracts.

Alcoa said its gas service was curtailed several times last November when Reynolds suffered no reductions.

Harry Meek of Little Rock, attorney for Alcoa, and Carl R. Stout, works manager of Alcoa's aluminum plant at Bauxite said that the company signed a "preferential" contract it would be forced to abandon its present of general rate increase. Meek said this would cause the company to lose its chance at possible refunds in the event the state Supreme Court denies the general rate increase.

The president of Ark-La, J. C. Hamilton of Shreveport, said contracts of the type negotiated with Reynolds had been executed throughout the history of the utility and its predecessor companies.

Such contracts are desirable so the company can plan for expansion, Hamilton said.

He said his company was ready to negotiate a contract with Alcoa. Both sides agreed that Alcoa could quit using gas for fuel any time it chose to do so.

Forty-Two Convicts Receive Paroles

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Forty-two convicts received paroles yesterday from the state Board of Pardons and Paroles. The list included four men who had been convicted of murder.

The board also recommended eight men for computations of sentence. Their names will not be revealed until Gov. Orval Faubus acts on the recommendations.

Faubus had commuted the sentences of the four murders last month in order to put them on the parole eligible list. They are Darrell Ogles of Clay County, sentenced Feb. 27, 1949, committed to 21 years; James Robert of Jefferson County Oct. 17, 1932 sentenced committed to 10 years; and Alfred Vincent of Prairie County, June 9, 1941, sentence committed to 35 years.

Grandmother of Hope Woman Dies

Mrs. Mattie L. Smith, aged 91, grandmother of Mrs. Howard Houston of Hope, died in California.

She is also survived by two daughters, Mrs. O. L. Candy of Detroit and Mrs. P. J. Krueze of California; three sons, Jack Smith of Oakland, Calif., Herbert of Truscott, Texas and Kenneth Smith of Panama, Texas. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Democrats in House Assured of Full Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats clinched control of the Senate today, (49-48), with the support of Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio). This gives them control of both branches.

Lausche's decision to stick with his party ended a short-lived renewal of Republican hopes that they might be able to seize control of the Senate from the Democrats despite the latter's numerical majority in the election returns.

The last came on the election of a Senate president pro tempore — the official who presides in the absence of the vice president.

The Democrats put up veteran Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona as a replacement for the retired Sen. Walter George of Georgia.

The Republicans then sought to substitute the name of Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

Suez Salvage Pace Picks Up a Bit

By ANTOINE YARED

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP) — The pace of salvage work in the Suez Canal picked up today with divers and crews working on two of the biggest obstructions — the collapsed Ferdan bridge and the sunken Egyptian landing ship Akka.

West German Leam's pushed their work at the Ferdan bridge, 38 miles south of Port Said. Divers attached wire cables to sections of the sunken span. The salvage vessels Energie and Ausdauer, largest of their type in the world, stood by to lift parts of the damaged structure as they were cut away.

Divers made underwater surveys of the Akka. Her removal is expected to be one of the toughest jobs in the clearance operation.

The possibility that some of the 13 ships stranded in the canal during the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt might be able to move out in a few days was reported by Egypt's Middle East News Agency. The agency quoted Mahmoud Yunis, managing director of the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority, as saying large ships would be able to sail for Port Said within the next four days.

U. S. L. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, U. N. boss of the clearance project, has estimated the entire canal will be open in May to the largest type vessels it can handle. He hopes to have a channel open by early March that can accommodate oil tankers and other vessels up to about 10,000 tons.

Work in the immediate Suez city area was taken over by salvage crews from the Egyptian canal authority. The Egyptians went to work on the sunken tug Atlas. An Egyptian spokesman said they expected the tug could be moved in four days.

Wheeler, on an inspection tour of work at the Ferdan bridge, told reporters the clearance operation "is going on very well."

Egyptian authorities in Port Said handed over to a Swedish battalion a body they said was that of British Army Lt. Anthony Moorehouse. Moorehouse was kidnapped by Egyptians Dec. 11, shortly before British-French invasion forces pulled out of the port city. Newspaper accounts have said he suffocated while hidden in a cup board during the search for him.

At a new conference, a newsman said some legislators had expressed fear of depression and were cautious about raising taxes for that reason.

"An increase in state funds is needed worse in times of depression than it is during prosperity," Faubus said. "The needs and wants of the people are greater and more state aid would put more money in circulation."

Rules Hospital Can Bar Doctor

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Pulaski County Chancellor Guy Williams ruled yesterday St. Vincent's hospital has the right to bar a doctor from using its facilities.

Dr. J. K. Donaldson brought suit against the hospital contending it barred him from using the operating room facilities without reason.

Judge Williams ruled the hospital is a private institution and may exclude from its staff "anyone it chooses."

Father of Hope Woman Succumbs in Detroit, Mich.

O. I. Cantley, aged 64, father of Mrs. Howard Houston of Hope, died January 1, at Detroit, Michigan. A former resident of Prescott, he was a member of Masonic Lodge No. 80.

He is also survived by his wife two sisters, Mrs. Lora Martindale and Mrs. Etta Williams of Prescott. Funeral arrangements are incomplete but the body will be returned to Prescott for burial.

City Sets Up Budget of $216,374---to Finance With New Tax Increase

Delay Likely Over Rights Legislation

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators seeking to clear the way for the enactment of civil rights legislation were ready today to trigger a new fight over Senate rules, but the showdown may be delayed.

Only the first move in the battle was in prospect for the opening session of the 85th Congress. Both sides said in advance they were agreeable to delaying any decision at least until next week.

The one step was to be the introduction by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) of a motion that the Senate give immediate consideration to the adoption of rules for the new Congress. The motion normally would be taken up promptly, but by agreement could be delayed until next week.

The motion was prepared on behalf of a group of Northern and Western senators, both Republicans and Democrats, who want to curb filibusters, the traditional weapon used by Southerners in fighting civil rights measures.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) accused the group yesterday of attempting to take a "short-cut" to change Senate rules and said that such action in legislative matters "leads to tyranny."

He spoke out after a meeting of Southern senators in his office. He indicated that the Southerners, in fighting the move of the Northern-Western coalition, were prepared to bring all other Senate business to a standstill if necessary.

Agencies Pad Actual Needs in Budget

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Some of the needs of state agencies were "exaggerated" in budget requests presented to the Arkansas Legislative Council, Gov. Orval Faubus said yesterday.

Faubus said he would not attempt to meet budget requests of all state agencies in presenting his tax program to the 1957 Legislature.

The governor previously has indicated more money is needed for public schools, the state hospital for Nervous Diseases and welfare.

The council, which makes budget recommendations to the Legislature, approved budgets totaling some 50 million dollars more than prospective revenue for the next two years.

Faubus is believed to favor increases in the sales, income and severance taxes.

At a new conference, a newsman said some legislators had expressed fear of depression and were cautious about raising taxes for that reason.

"An increase in state funds is needed worse in times of depression than it is during prosperity," Faubus said. "The needs and wants of the people are greater and more state aid would put more money in circulation."

All Around Town

Although nobody likes a tax increase the Hope City Council has a good argument as far as its proposed sewer tax is concerned . . . at the present time there is no tax for maintenance of the sewage system . . . hence over the years the entire system has deteriorated alarmingly and much of the system needs to be replaced right now . . . so the Council is figuring on a tax to not only take care of the present upkeep expense but to build up a backlog for new construction, which is vital . . . with such a backlog the federal government will match local funds . . . at the present the city can't get a dime because there is no matching money . . . other cities over the state have a sewer tax and thus are able to take advantage of federal aid.

The Junction of Highways 29 and 32, the Blevins and Proving Ground road, definitely has a new look . . . in recent weeks the Highway Department has placed over 20 signs within a block of the intersection . . . and one of the signs is dangerous . . . folks traveling south on 32 toward Hope have to stop for traffic coming from Blevins although 32 is a perfectly straight road at that point where it enters 29 . . . going north from Hope traffic can travel 32 or 29 without stopping . . . neither does traffic coming into Hope from Blevins have to stop . . . thus a dangerous situation is created . . . the situation could easily be remedied by placing the stop sign on 29, eliminating all confusion and still having only a one-way stop.

Much has been said by writers about the Sugar Bowl kicking incident and it is unfortunate that it happened . . . certainly there is no sporting excuse . . . but in the millions of words the fact is buried that the man who got kicked was guilty of a personal foul . . . which means he did something unsportsmanlike . . . so why make a villain out of only one player?

Work Councils Refuse to Fire Employees

By CHARLES W. RIDLEY

VIENNA, (UP) — Rebellious workers councils are openly defying the Communist regime by refusing to fire idled employees in the nationalized Hungarian factories. It was reported today.

The Soviet-backed Janos Kadar regime ordered more than 200,000 workers fired New Year's day. Virtually all of Hungary's industry has been paralyzed for weeks by a power shortage caused by coal shortages.

Reports reaching Vienna indicated worker councils in many plants ignored the government orders. In some instances, they seized factory funds in order to keep employees on full pay.

It was a risky business. The government has shown no mercy to worker leaders who continue to display any resistance. Hundreds of former leaders of the outlawed regional workers councils were arrested for refusing to knuckle down to the reformed regime.

Trace of Snow Falls Today in Little Rock

By The Associated Press

A trace of snow fell at Little Rock early today the first of the season.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said the snow fell about 5:30 a.m. for 15 minutes. It melted almost as it touched the ground.

Temperatures this morning at Little Rock and other cities of Arkansas were well above the chilly readings of yesterday morning.

The low was 32 at Little Rock and Fort Smith 35 at Texarkana, 31 at West Memphis, 26 at Walnut Ridge, 29 at Phipps 34 at Fayetteville 27 at Blytheville and 33 at El Dorado and Pine Bluff.

No rain was reported in the state yesterday, the Weather Bureau said.

High temperatures yesterday included 45 at El Dorado, 43 at Fayetteville, 41 at Pine Bluff, 40 at Fort Smith 39 at Phipps 36 at Little Rock, 35 at Walnut Ridge and West Memphis and 32 at Blytheville.

The forecast calls for cloudy with widely scattered showers today, mainly in the west portion.

Sewage Tax Will Follow Garbage Fee Increase

Hope City Council, with three new members attending their first meet, last night adopted a budget of $216,374.67 and promptly raised health department fees to get part of the money to meet it. There was also the possibility of another tax increase in the near future, probably a sewer tax.

New members of the Council sitting in last night were Roy Taylor, John Green and Olin Lewis.

Tax Increase
The Health Department increase affects both commercial and residential areas. But the hike is not too large. The regular fee now being paid monthly was increased to $1.00 and downtown commercial increases are based on the amount of trash hauled from each establishment.

This residential revenue increase is estimated at $15,042, and commercial at $5,780, a total $20,822 to come out of the taxpayers' pockets.

At the present time the city's estimate known revenue is $178,235.03. Add the $20,822 and the revenue is still $17,317.64 below the adopted budget and this deficit in all likelihood will be raised through a sewer tax. Following some discussion of the tax last night the group adjourned without action but a special meeting on the matter was called for Monday night, January 7.

Sewer Tax Coming
During the session of tax discussion the method of taxation followed two courses . . . one was 50 percent of the average water bill and the other a straight 50 cents per month per house. The matter will be decided Monday.

Early last night Mayor H. M. Olson presented his own budget which totaled $220,218.67. It met a cool reception from the council which set up a committee to make up a budget which was adopted last night. The group worked two months setting up the budget.

Mayor Olson indicated he would go along with the budget but feared it was too low. The council apparently didn't agree as it was adopted.

Mother and Child Perish in Fire

WALPOLE, Mass. (AP) — "My God, the house is on fire! I'm trapped!"

A few moments after shouting that frantic alarm into the telephone, Mrs. Doris Danchey, 30, and her only child James, 4 months, perished last night in their room bungalow.

Fire Chief Aaron Hill said Mrs. Danchey apparently passed up her only chance to escape by her attempt to save the baby.

The woman's body was found a few feet from the baby's crib. Earlier yesterday, Mrs. Almond Gardner, 35, and her 2-year-old son Steven, perished in a fire at their home in Fairhaven. Authorities said she apparently was trying to flee with the child. Both perished near the door.

Faubus to Address Legislature Jan. 15

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus will deliver his second term inaugural address before a radio and television audience at 11 a.m. Jan. 15.

Secretary of State C. C. Hall, who announced the arrangements today, said the inauguration ceremonies would be held in the House chamber.

The Legislature will convene at noon Jan. 14. After organization of the House and Senate, it is customary for them to pass a joint resolution calling for a joint session the next day for the governor's address.

Bomb Hoaxes in Schools Will Decline

By DONALD P. RETTIG

NEW YORK (UP) — Authorities expected fewer bomb hoaxes at schools today because students have been warned they will have to make up class time lost for bomb searches.

Schools across the nation became the target of telephoned bomb threats yesterday with the end of the Christmas recess. Students were dismissed for the day in some cases and others returned to classes after participating in shelter drills while police searched for bombs.

Police said they had expected such bomb scares as attempts by students to extend their holiday. They took no chances, however, and searched any school that had been threatened.

School authorities took immediate action to end any further calls by pranksters. Many principals warned their charges that any time lost in searching for bombs would either be made up during the school year or deducted from vacation time.

The prospect of added days in school was expected to deter pupils from seeking extra holidays by making phony bomb calls.

Both House and Senate have rules for doing business. The 435 House members could never get any week done unless they put a time limit on their own talking. They have a rule making filibuster

2. But before a bill can even be debated or filibustered, a motion must be made to bring it up. That can be filibustered too. And that can't be stopped except by the same kind of constitutional vote of two thirds.

Since the Senate makes its own

Because this is so, each newly elected House has two have rules. Each goes through the formality of adopting the rules of the previous House whose term had just expired.

Bomb hoaxes also forced the evacuation of schools in Cincinnati O., Independence, Mo., Hartford and New Britain Conn. and Bayonne Fair Lawn Ridgewood and Ramsey N. J.

In states which had fewer traffic fatalities in 1956 than in 1955 credit generally is given to rigid enforcement of safety measures. In states where traffic deaths increased, similar crackdowns generally are planned.

Why Not Learn to Say Grace

Dear Dorothy Dix: If you are a guest in someone's home for a meal, are asked to "give thanks" and do not wish to, what should one say in refusing?

MRS. N.W.: Why refuse? Is it because you don't know what to say? If that's the case, I'll gladly send you "Grace Before Meals," in Catholic, Jewish and Protestant versions.

There's no reason why you shouldn't be able, and willing to ask the Lord's blessing, if requested. A self-addressed, stamped envelope will bring you, or any other interested reader, this material.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in love with a sweet, gentle guy who would do anything for anybody. Three years ago he was engaged, but they broke up for some reason and he began to go with me. Since then he has alternated between us. The other night we had a long discussion and he admitted she was the only girl he ever loved, although he is very fond of me. He said he'd marry me if I wished and we would probably be happy. Do you think under the circumstances it would work?

MOLLY: Dear Molly: While the ex-fiancee is still so much in the picture, I would certainly advise against marriage for you two. Remain friends for the time being, and perhaps your charm will win him completely. Who wants to play second fiddle, anyway?

Dear Dorothy Dix: We have been informed that Father is very ill, and may live only six months. He's not aware of this, in fact is quite cheerful and active. Since I am the single daughter at home, do you think I should discontinue all social activities? When I go out, I feel guilty.

BESSIE: Dear Bess: You're a fine conscientious daughter, but I don't think filial duty requires the sacrifice of all outside activity. Be kind to your father, and see that he's provided with special comforts he enjoys, such as favorite magazines. Bring home cheerful stories from the office. Bring your friends home, too; they'll be entertaining for Dad.

Dear Dorothy Dix: At the beginning of the term, John and I exchanged rings. Then he went to an out-of-town college. I had one date with another boy, John heard about it and was furious. During the holidays he came home and returned my ring. How can I get him back?

LOIS: Dear Lois: Some girls like the advantages of going steady, but dislike its limitations. If you get John back, remember it will mean no dating until summer. Better play the field.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Last month my boy friend, Cliff, said some unkind things about my girl friend, Liz. I know I shouldn't have told Liz, but I did. She promised not to say anything, but she did. Now, of course, Cliff is mad at me and I guess he has reason. He hasn't tried to see me since. What can I do to make up?

ADRIENNE: Dear Adrienne: One of the most difficult temptations to resist is passing on confidences. A secret is told, and always with the proviso, "Now don't you dare tell anyone!" Why should you expect someone else to keep faith, when you couldn't?

All three of you were wrong in this little contretemps. You are all petty gossipers. Why not get together and sign the pledge — to hold you tongues!

Britain Reject Egypt Contention

LONDON (AP)—Britain today rejected Egypt's abrogation of the 1954 British-Egyptian treaty giving this country conditional rights to reoccupy the Suez Canal Zone. Britain considers the pact still in force.

A British Foreign Office spokesman told a news conference: "We do not accept the contention that Egypt has a right to renounce this treaty unilaterally. Britain retains its right under the agreement."

At one time the greatest peach orchard in Arkansas was located near DoQueen. It was known as the American orchard.

Brook of Lewisville. Assisting were Mrs. E. L. Archer Jr., and Mrs. Dick Watkins. Fifty guests called between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock. The honoree was the recipient of a lovely gift.

Miscellaneous Shower
 Honoree Miss Vera Tonnemaker. Mrs. Wade Warren entertained Tuesday evening at 7:30 in her home with a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Vera Tonnemaker who's engagement to Wayne Johnson has been made known.

The honoree was presented with a corsage of white carnations. After the playing of entertaining games, the many gifts were opened and displayed.

Approximately 35 guests were present. Assisting Mrs. Warren with the entertaining were her daughter, Janell, Mrs. Grady Harrison, Mrs. Lile Allen, Mrs. Ivy Mitchell and Mrs. Ned Purdie.

Lancaster Plays Role of Writer

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — "What are you doing to us?" This I demanded from Burt Lancaster, who is playing a columnist in his current picture. What kind of a columnist

"This guy is really a heel," confessed Lancaster. "He's as mean, lowdown character who would knife anyone for a story."

Seated in his plush Beverly Hills office, Lancaster cast an "If the shoe fits, put it on" look in my direction. But he added, "This role isn't designed after any one columnist. It's a study of a guy who uses any methods he can to achieve the sweet smell of success." In fact that's the name of the picture.

Actions are forever complaining about what columnists write about them, and I hinted that this could be ideal revenge. However, the well-adjusted Lancaster pooch-pooched the notion. "This isn't a vendetta against columnists," he said. "We show in the picture that there are good columnists too."

That was a relief, though I wasn't completely convinced by Lancaster's example. His "good" columnist is a fellow who has been carrying on with a cutie despite his marriage. The columnist refuses to be blackmailed by a press agent though his refusal means exposure to his wife.

I asked Lancaster about his own relations with the press. "They have always been good," he said. "There are some writers I have respect for and some I do not. I don't respect some because I think their work is poor or they are destructive to the industry."

The main basis is not their personality or how nice they are, but whether their work has integrity."

It would cost a do-it-yourself fan about $50 to make a single modern lead pencil if he bought raw materials and started from scratch.

MOP Bus Lines' Name Changed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The name of Missouri Pacific Bus Lines has been formally changed to Midwest Bus Lines, Inc., Gen. Mgr. Murray Rogers announced today.

Midwest is a Delaware corporation. It recently purchased the Missouri Pacific company. The Missouri Pacific Bus Lines curtailed service to Hot Springs in August, after that date running only two scheduled as compared to 14 prior to that date. On Dec. 20, the service was further curtailed and now only one bus is operated by the company in and out of Hot Springs.

Clyde Minton, terminal manager here for 16 years, was transferred to Little Rock in the same capacity. However, he and Mrs. Minton have continued to make their home here.

The Missouri Pacific company was sold to the Delaware corporation by Frammel Crow, Texas millionaire who had purchased it several months ago, according to information obtained here.

Would Permit More Refugees Into the U. S.

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said today he expects the new Congress to pass legislation permitting more Hungarian refugees to enter the United States.

Some other congressional leaders indicated a similar vote yesterday after a White House briefing on foreign affairs, including the Hungarian situation.

Knowland, who was at the meeting, said in an interview he did not want at this time to predict what form the legislation would take.

Vice President Nixon said in a report that this country should take "substantially more" Hungarians fleeing their homeland. He also proposed specific steps for Congress to take, but said no definite number of additional refugees should be set.

"We should not place a ceiling on what we will do in fulfilling our traditional national mission of providing a haven of refuge for victims of oppression," he said, beyond the 21,500 quota previously announced.

A DOCTOR for BLUE JAY COVE

THE STORY: Although Dr. Alex Knapp, chief surgeon at the hospital, has returned to Blue Jay Cove, he is lax in doing his share of the work most of which falls on the shoulders of Dr. Alex Ward. Alex believes the reason is Miss Lenoire, Black, mystery woman at the hospital. Alex has seen Lenoire and Matt together.

XVI

She stirred her coffee round and round, watching the ripples from the spoon made in the shiny brown surface. "My idea was this," she said slowly. "I felt that Matt had come to a place where—things were being changed anyway, you know. Well, I thought he was at a point in his life when he should establish himself as his own man here in the hospital, here in his work, his job. And not only in the little number of additional refugees should be set."

"We should not place a ceiling on what we will do in fulfilling our traditional national mission of providing a haven of refuge for victims of oppression," he said, beyond the 21,500 quota previously announced.

UN Winds Up 10 Day Holiday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The U. N. General Assembly ends its 10-day holiday recess today to take up the most pressing series of problems ever to face the international body.

The situations in Hungary and the Middle East remain foremost on the list of problems to be met during the new year. Also slated for discussion at the earliest possible date are the British-Greek dispute over Cyprus, Algeria's demands for independence from France and a dispute between the Netherlands of Indonesia for control of Western New Guinea.

The future of Hungary was expected to be first on the agenda, although Asian and Arab delegates continued strong efforts to put priority for a debate on the Algerian issue.

"You're not some woman, Sue," he said, gently firm. "You're the wife."

"I'm his wife," she agreed, her tone sharp. "And that's my project. Alex! To be Matt's wife, to keep his home, and care for his child—and let him do the bacon-bifstein' home."

"Sue," he said then "you know, leaving Black."

"Didn't you tell me that she brought in this case tonight?"

"No," said Alex, recognizing her plan to change the subject. "I said that she was at the filling station when the boy was hurt. It was she who put him on the dolly and kept him there."

"Big help," agreed Sue. "It's amazing what First Aid lessons do for people, Alex. Those courses really pay off."

"Do you know why she chooses to live in the Cove?"

Sue frowned. "She came here for treatment."

Alex's face showed that he did not buy her theory. "Do you know where she comes from?"

"She was referred to us by a Kansas City doctor. That's all I know of her origin. In the history, I think I have figured out some of her background. Sue, where she has been."

"I am sure," he said gravely, "that Matt knew Lenoire when he was stationed in the Philippines. I am not sure what she was doing there, or any of those details. I am sure, however, that she came here to the Cove almost directly from Manila. I am sure that her paralysis was an after-effect of an illness which she suffered there. She was probably hospitalized for a time and, when able, she came here for treatment—because of Matt."

He glanced at Sue, and put his hand out to cover hers.

She could make only a faint sound of protest; and Alex silenced her before the sound could form words. "Matt is seeing her, Sue. Those walks he takes—he goes to her houseboat, or they meet."

Sue drew her hand away from his touch. "I can't be true. The woman's too good."

"She's a woman."

She gulped and drank some of her cold coffee and blew her nose. "I'm sorry, but I felt I should tell you this, Sue."

"Thanks for nothing," she said wryly. "You should go home to bed."

"I'll be okay. I want to speak again about your coming back to work Sue. I really think you

Sue slumped into a deep chair and ran her fingers through her short hair and waited for the first round of Matt's car, the first suggestion of lights coming into the hospital grounds.

Matt had gone to a Kiwanis meeting. It was Wednesday night, and he always went to the dining meeting on Wednesday. She could count on it!

She said all these things to herself, and defiantly. She didn't want to be anxious. She didn't intend to think about what Alex had said to her.

He might know more about Lenoire Black than Sue did, but Sue preferred her own appraisal of the woman. And she was not going to believe Alex!

Rival Factions Plan Strategy in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) Senate Dixie Democrats and a coalition of Northern and Western Democrats and Republicans convene rival strategy meetings today on a proposal to change Senate rules.

In the opening hours of the new Senate session tomorrow, the Northern group plans to try to knock down the Senate rule it regards as a bulwark for filibusters against civil rights bills.

Sen. Sherman Cooper (R-N.Y.) announced last night that he will join the group seeking the rule change.

A group of Southern senators arranged for its own strategy meeting in the office of Sen. Russell (D-Ga.). Its members said little, but some of them indicated privately they are far from sure of the outcome of a fight over civil rights in which time White House goes all out.

At issue in the rules fight is a Senate rule which requires the affirmative votes of at least 64 of the Senate's 96 members to impose a time limit on debate. The Northern group would like to make it a simple majority.

Stabbed Pro Gridder Is Some Better

HOUSTON Tex. (UP) Paul Carr, a star on the San Francisco 49ers professional football team who was stabbed in the heart at a New Year's Eve party, was reported in "fair" condition today.

James R. Chambliss, a 25-year-old ex-convict and electrician was charged with stabbing Carr following an argument.

Police said Chambliss drove the blade of a pearl-handled switchblade knife twice into the chest of the 25-year-old Carr. One thrust nicked his heart.

Chambliss and Carr were at different New Year's Eve parties in the plush Western Suites Hotel. The parties were in suites across the hall from each other on the second floor and the new year approached, there was visiting back and forth.

Jack M. Chambers, host of the party Carr was attending, said he overheard the two men arguing. "Several of us went out and Paul said this man Chambliss tried to snatch his wallet," Chamber said. "We separated the men and Paul started back into our rooms. Then Chambliss said something very foul to him and Paul turned and swung on him."

"He had the man down on a couch and was about to hit him again when I saw a knife flash in Chambliss' hand. Then there was a lot of blood on Paul's shirt."

Chambliss ran down and killed Trinidad Cardozo, a seven-year-old shoeshine boy with a truck in Houston in 1934. Police who arrested him said he was "so doped up" he couldn't even tell them what happened.

Up to Camden to Oust Aldermen

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The attorney general's office today said it was up to the Camden City Council to decide whether to oust two aldermen who have moved from the wards in which they lived when elected.

Camden City Atty. C. M. Martin wrote that at the November 1935 general election, Alderman Doni otherwise identified — was elected from the 4th Ward and Alderman E. — also not further identified — was elected from the 1st Ward.

Both now live in the 2nd Ward, Martin said.

The city attorney asked whether the moves disqualified the two men to serve on the City Council and, if so, how they should be removed.

In reply, Assistant Atty. Gen. Paul Rawlings cited an earlier opinion which pointed out that there is no statute expressly disqualifying an alderman because of removal but that apparently the general law might be violated by continued service.

Rawlings advised that the City Council could declare the aldermanic seats vacant and fill them with residents of the respective wards.

Woman Charged in Death of Husband

DE QUEEN, Ark. — Mrs. Ruby Rosser today was charged with first degree murder in the death of her husband A. T. Rosser who was wounded fatally by a shotgun blast at their home Sunday.

The information was filed by Prosecutor Bill Spencer of Meigs. Circuit Judge Bobby Steel ordered Mrs. Rosser committed to the state hospital for Nervous Diseases at Little Rock for a mental examination.

Police said Mrs. Rosser, who was hospitalized for treatment of shock after the shooting, had admitted firing the weapon.

Sheriff Cecil Dillahunty said neighbors told him Rosser, 60, and his wife, 48 had argued Saturday.

The blast from the 12-gauge shotgun struck Rosser in the abdomen.

Harvard Coach Is On His Way Out

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Only an official announcement that Lloyd Jordan is being replaced as Harvard's coach today before Harvard hears out a "help wanted" sign for the 22nd coach in its 82-year football history.

Jordan said last night that the Faculty Committee on Athletic Sports has asked the Harvard Corporation to "replace" him and buy up his contract which has two years to run.

Jordan said athletic Director Thomas D. Bolles told him Monday that "noor teaching" was given by the committee as its reason for the dismissal vote.

A former president of the American Football Coaches Association, Jordan moved to Harvard in 1930 after 18 years as coach and athletic director at Amherst College. He earned about $12,500 a year.

His Harvard tennis team has had little success on the gridiron, winning 24 games, losing 31 and playing 3 ties. The 1956 team won two and lost six.

Thought For The Day

Reading without reflecting, is like eating without digesting. — Burke.

Calendar Of Events

Family Day At BeeBee
Sunday, January 6, will be observed as "Family Day" at BeeBee Memorial C. M. E. Church. In the morning worship, the Pastor's sermon will be directed toward family relations. All members of the church are asked to bring their entire family to this service. Rev. C. S. Stearns, Pastor.

Basketball Game At Harris Gym

The Yergers Basketball Ball team will meet Horace Mann High School of Little Rock, Arkansas in a thrilling game Friday night, January 4, at 7:30. Admission fee: Students, 25c and 35c; Adults 50c. For an evening of wholesome entertainment, attend this game.

Holiday Visitors Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Poindexter, left Wednesday, January 2, enroute to their home in Berkeley, California, after having spent the holidays with relatives and friends in the city. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Earl Mary Coleman and her son, Calvin, Jr., who live in San Francisco, California.

(The printing of this letter was a special request received by your reporter) (quote) to my white and colored friends:

I am late a greeting, but please send me a festive December 24th was my 106th birthday. I want to see how many will remember me for the sake of my earthly record.

I have twelve (12) children, twenty (20) grandchildren, and forty-one (41) great grandchildren.

When I was a little chap, I was rooted and grounded in Jesus, my name was written on Joshua's wall. I am just waiting for it to be called. If He calls me before the next time, I don't fear, because a good report down here makes a good record on high. Just so you live, just so you die. You see, that's the way that is.

Now my friends, remember me, because I remember you. Mrs. Louise Epps, 1831 Wilford, East St. Louis, Illinois. P. S. (Reporter's Word)

I understand that this is not half of the things that she said while this letter was being written. This letter impressed me very much. Hope it will touch you as it did me. Let's make her happy by sending her a card.

Porkers Take on A&M at College Station

By The Associated Press
Southern Methodist is off and running toward its third straight Southwest Conference basketball championship.

The Methodists showed nothing daunted them last night as they made Baylor's tight zone defense a shambles in winning 79-64 in the opening game of the conference campaign.

It was SMU's only game of the week and the Mustangs will just sit back and see how the other six league members do in swiping at each other.

SMU Starts in Right by Licking Baylor 79-64

By ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

Time was when the Southwest Conference was upset-prone in basketball. But Southern Methodist apparently has changed all that.

The Mustangs, beaten only by Kentucky this season, opened defense of their conference crown by halting their 17th consecutive league victory with an easy 79-64 decision over Baylor last night.

Baylor tried a zone against the Mustangs ranked fourth in the Associated Press poll of their 11-1 record, but SMU simply shot over it.

It was a relatively light night on the college scene, with Vanderbilt the only other member of the top 10 in action. The ninth-rated Commodores cracked William and Mary 60-65 with Joe Gibbs canning 21 points.

Houston junked Drake's hopes for a winning "debut" in the Missouri Valley Conference as Andy McElvaine whiplashed in a layup and a foul shot in the final 30 seconds for a 74-72 victory.

Alabama's little Jack Kubiszyn hit 17 of 32 field attempts for a school record of 47 points in an 86-53 job on Mississippi Southern. And Auburn, another Southeast Conference entry, surged past 100 points for the first time in history with a 101-70 decision over Little Howard (Ala.).

Canisius led virtually all the way in an 80-70 victory over Detroit.

In late finishing and late stateing—holiday tournaments it was: Amherst 87, New Hampshire 55, as the Lord Jeffs built a 31-point lead in the first half to win the Spring Hill 67, Furman 56 and Morehead (Ky.) 97. Florida State 75 in the first round of the Senior Bowl tourney at Mobile.

Lenny Moore Barely Beats Out Carpenter

By EARL WRIGHT
NEW YORK (UP)

Lenny Moore, former Penn State halfback who led the Baltimore Colts in scoring last season with 54 points, today was named the National Football League's outstanding 1956 rookie in the annual United Press poll.

The 23-year-old Moore, a native of Reading, Pa., is the second straight Baltimore player to win the rookie poll. Alan (The Horse) Ameche, former Wisconsin All-America who put in his second season with the Colts in 1956, was the 1955 winner.

Moore beat out Preston Carpenter, former University of Arkansas halfback who set a Cleveland record in 1956 by carrying the ball 188 times, received six votes.

Moore received 10 votes. Carpenter, former University of Arkansas halfback who set a Cleveland record in 1956 by carrying the ball 188 times, received six votes.

John Huff, a first-year player from West Virginia who won the starting middle guard berth with the champion New York Giants, placed third with four votes.

John Unitas, who came up from sandlot football to set a new Baltimore club record by competing 55.6 per cent of his passes, was fifth with three votes.

Clyde Coner, an end from College of the Pacific who made good with the San Francisco Forty-Niners, and J. C. Caroline, Chicago Bears halfback, each received one vote.

Moore finished eighth in the league in rushing with 649 yards of 86 attempts. His average of 7.5 yards per rush was the best posted among the pro circuits top ten ball carriers and was the highest in the history of the Baltimore team.

Okolona Takes 3 From Ouachita

Okolona won three games over Ouachita the night of January 1 with the Senior boys taking a 32 to 38 decision. David Stewart was high with 19. McDaniel and Rowe made 12 each.

The Senior girls won 28 to 32 with Okolona's Judy Malcom making 18. The Junior girls won handily 41 to 22 with Linda Spradlin tossing in 24 points.

Senior Bowl Coaches Need More Time

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Senior Bowl coaches, blessed with a wealth of material but cursed with a dearth of time, today began their tasks of developing offensive machines for Saturday's game.

Only two days left to prepare for the eight annual contest, North Coach Joe Kuharich of the Washington Redskins and the South's Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns got their first good look at the squads yesterday, observed individual capabilities, and tried out various backfield combinations.

Although Brown didn't get to see Texas Christian's Charley Cullis, who missed plane connections and arrived too late for the drill, the 6-5 star of TCU's 28-27 Cotton Bowl victory over Syracuse is expected to call signals.

Georgia Tech's Wade Mitchell directed the backfield in his absence.

Alternating at the halfbacks were Baylor's Del Shofner, voted the outstanding player in Baylor's 13-7 Sugar Bowl victory over Tennessee; George Volkert of Tech; Ed Sutton of North Carolina and Joel Wells of Clemson. All America Don Bosseler of Miami (Fla.) and Jack Pardee of Texas A&M worked at fullback.

Another All America, tailback John Majors of Tennessee, worked mainly with the defensive outfit. Kuharich watched quarterback Len Dawson of Purdue connect repeatedly with ends Brad Bomba of Indiana and Steven Junker of Xavier with his passes.

Also in the No. 1 North backfield were Art Luppino of Arizona at left half and 217-pound John Bayuk of Colorado at fullback. Terry Barr of Michigan and Jim Podolev of Central Michigan alternated at the other half.

The 50 players turn pro in the game. Members of the winning team will receive $500 each, the losers $400. The game will be in 46,000 capacity Ladd Stadium.

Costly Oil Fire in Persian Gulf

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — Oilmen disclosed today a storm has wrecked a 1-million-dollar offshore drilling rig, left 20 Arab workers dead or missing and dealt a crippling blow to a four-year hunt for oil under the Persian Gulf.

The disaster struck a 1,200-ton steel floating tower of the Shell Oil Co., last Thursday night in the shallow waters of the Gulf that separates the rich oil fields of Iran and Saudi Arabia.

A spokesman for Shell, which had invested more than 25 million dollars in the maritime search, said: "Although the platform is still standing, it is doubtful whether it can be salvaged. An examination is being made by experts from abroad."

Oilmen expressed belief it would take two years to get steel for a new platform and that this might influence the company to abandon offshore drilling in this area—part of a complex of oil-rich desert lands that is a base for a large group of American technicians.

Deaths Around the Nation

By The Associated Press
CRONTON, Conn. — Vice Adm. Wilson Brown, 74, naval aid to Presidents Coolidge, Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman, and a former superintendent of the Naval Academy, died yesterday.

OREM, Utah — Dr. Leroy E. Cowles, 76, president of the University of Utah from 1941 to 1946 and associated with the school since 1914 died yesterday. He was born in Chester, Utah.

PHILADELPHIA — Robert E.P. Sengender, 72, drama critic and retiring sports editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin and with the newspaper since 1905 died yesterday.

ALBANY, Ga. — William Chapman Pater, 82, retired New York industrialist and banker, died yesterday. He was born in Chicago.

Fullmer Takes Crown Away From Robinson

By MURRAY ROSS KO
NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Fullmer, freshly crowned middleweight champion, warned Sugar Ray Robinson today that he'll be "twice as mean" and "gunning for a knockout the next time he fights the dethroned king."

"I fought for nothing this time," said the unmarked, 25-year-old Mormon from West Jordan, Utah. "The next fight — if Robinson wants it — I'll be out there for the big money and to keep the title. I'll be twice as mean and I'll be out for a knockout. I wanted to go for the kazo in this one but Marv (manager Marv Jenson) said I had the title wrapped up in the late rounds and not to open up."

Whether there will be a return fight — and the chances are strong that there will be one — will be decided this afternoon when the dejected 36-year-old Sugar Man meets with his brain trust to decide his fight future.

The fading Robinson, marking the second defense of his third reign as middleweight champion, lost on a unanimous decision in 15 rounds. He was floored for six in the seventh round, cut and soundly whacked to the body throughout. Ray was gashed over the left eye in the seventh and it was widened in the 14th.

Referee Ruby Goldstein, a target of heated criticism by Robinson's advisers, voted for Fullmer by 8 rounds to 5 with 2 even. Judge Frank Forbes had Gene ahead 10-5, while Judge Harold Barnes had it a shade closer, 9-6. The Associated Press card had Fullmer in front 9-6.

Fullmer, a thick-necked, brown-skinned, 160-pounder, was a mine worker with a zest for fighting. Not off to a fast start in the first three rounds, swept the sixth, seventh eighth and tenth rounds and clinched the first boxing title for Utah with a roaring surge in the 13th and 14th rounds.

Robinson, hurt five times himself, shook Gene at least three times but couldn't follow up as he did in the past when he seemed to sense when he had an opponent in trouble. Maybe the spirit was willing, but the flesh was weak and the reflexes have slowed.

Robinson, who collected a fat purse of $139,050 to Fullmer's $20,802 has a contract calling for a return bout within 90 days at 30-30 split if he wants it. How did he feel about continuing in the ring?

"Boxing is my business," he replied, leaving no doubt that he wants another crack at Fullmer. "If he wants it, the fight is his," said both Fullmer and his manager Marv Jenson.

Thieves Eat Meal and Find a Hobby

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Hungry thieves ate a meal and found a hobby when they hit a Little Rock drug store last night.

James A. Harrison, operator of the drug store, told police that about $500 worth of old coins was missing, among other things.

There was evidence that the thieves brought fried chicken into the drug store and ate it with quart of milk taken from the store's refrigerator.
